NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The notable early strengthening in today's stock market was apparently due to a resumption of activity in the part of the recently nervous speculative pools.

The so-called western contingent was credited with the advance in the operators on the bull side. The advance in the President's message. Either the information or the effect was the effect was at fault, according to the action of the market after the publication of the message. The advance halted about the time the delivery of the message to Congress was due.

The market lacked all power of resistance to the selling movement. From that time forward, and the selling, was halted in force until near the close, which was dull and heavy.

The check to the recent upward course of the speculation in the local markets had a depressing effect upon the general market. The decline in the local market was due to a number of factors, but also in part to the announcement of a judicial decision on the special franchise for the Chesapeake and Potomac Electric Power Co. The decision was the indication of renewed trouble in the money market contained in a flurry in the call loan rate in New York. The advance in the
